Vogue Australia beauty editor Sigourney Cantelo's sweet smelling award

April 21, 2010 - 9:34PM

Congratulations to Vogue Australia's beauty editor Sigourney Cantelo for taking out the top prize at today's Jasmine Awards, held at Café Sydney.

Cantelo was awarded the Jasmine Award for Journalistic Excellence for Vogue's Ultimate Guide to Fragrance, which appeared in the December 2009 issue of the magazine.

"I'm so thrilled and honoured to have won this award," Cantelo says. "It's a great initiative for the industry and one that inspires clever and creative work from beauty journalists all over the country."

Judges, who sifted through a record 116 entries, commended Cantelo's comprehensive and informative approach to covering such a diverse industry.

In the article Cantelo explained, "why the whiff of wet asphalt can transport you back 20 years to recess in the school playground, or why the scent of a stranger can send you tumbling back into the arms of an old lover, it's because of all the senses smell has the most direct correlation to recollection."

Congratulations Sigourney!
